New York, NY, June 9 – Lower Manhattan Cultural Council's site-specific performance series presents Untitled Corner by Daniel Arsham, Jonah Bokaer, and Judith Sanchez Ruiz, as part of the annual River To River Festival. Celebrating its 6th anniversary, Sitelines 09 brings to life a highly energized program of provocative dance, set to inspiring imagery and unexpected surroundings.

Performed at One Chase Manhattan Plaza, Untitled Corner is a collaboration examining memory loss, pattern recognition, and perceptual faculties as they apply to the human body in public space. In collaboration with visual artist Daniel Arsham, Jonah Bokaer and Judith Sanchez Ruiz's piece employs site-responsive architecture, objects, lighting, and other media to create the illusion of an expanded space. Original sound score by Alexis Georgopoulos/ARP.

Jonah Bokaer and Judith Sanchez Ruiz create performance situations that could not veritably exist in physical space: this will happen through the use of built spaces by Daniel Arsham, including a 3-dimensional cube, offering the ability to transport movement to different locations that appear to be just outside of the audience.
